

We Need Dedicated Traffic Management Professionals Like You!

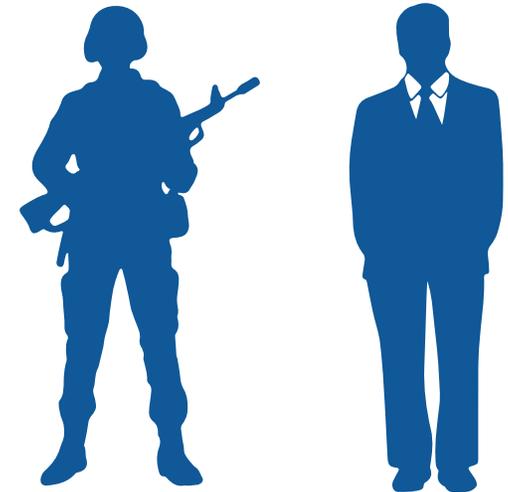

US Department of Labor data shows increasing gaps in skilled labor to fill positions in the logistics field. We are aware of the value that trained and dedicated military veterans bring to an organization. If you have experience in traffic management or transportation and are about to transition, we need you!

Consider a career in international trade. The logistics industry needs trained and Certified Export Specialists and Customs Specialists. Now we can even help you attain certification while on active duty.

Veterans to Trade

Your pathway to a new career!

About the Program

Veterans to Trade (V2T) is a National Customs Brokers and Forwarders Association of America Educational Institute (NEI) project. NEI is working with the military services to create training and employment opportunities for transitioning service members across the country.

The project is a pathway for service members who hold job specialties in traffic management to achieve credentialing and certification in customs and export specialties. The goal is to allow troops to attain professional certification while on or following active duty transitioning into civilian industry.

The NEI is seeking military personnel who are looking for a meaningful career once they transition to civilian life. Through participation in, and completion of our programs, we can offer qualified veterans the chance to be matched with companies who are looking for their skills and experience.

Our Commitment

Through this program we commit to:

Provide world class training in customs and export policies and procedures in over 100 subject areas.

Conduct learning assessments through a comprehensive examination on the subject matter.

Assure potential employers that a Certified Customs Specialist (CCS) or Certified Export Specialist (CES) has been thoroughly trained and has demonstrated his/her competence by satisfactorily completing a rigorous comprehensive exam.

Joining the Program

Visit ncbfaa.org to read about our program(s) and see if they would be a good match for your interests and experience.

Veterans and active military are eligible to receive a special price of $650 per course without having to pay any membership fees. Those already employed by an NCBFAA member receive an additional 50% off discount for $325 per course.

Submit an application and tuition fees to get started on the path to your new career!

Once you successfully complete a course and become certified, you will be entered into a candidate database that will be searchable by top trade companies across the country.
